

What Legal HELP Does ELP Provide?

If you are eligible, ELP will provide you with an attorney or paralegal to offer advice and counseling, prepare and review legal documents and represent you in court or before government agencies such as the Social Security Administration or the Department of Public Welfare. ELP also represents and provides training in legal rights to eligible client groups such as tenant, community and welfare recipient organizations.

How Can I Get HELP From ELP?

ELP sees people only by appointment at various senior centers throughout Allegheny County.

Before you can arrange an interview with ELP, you must be registered in the Adult Services/Area Agency on Aging system. You then may schedule an appointment by calling the senior center in your area.

If you do not know the telephone number or location of the senior center nearest to you, please call the Area Agency on Aging at (412) 350-5460.

HOW CAN I HELP ELP HELP OTHERS?

Quality legal services are expensive and costs continue to rise. To meet these obligations, ELP seeks support from a variety of private foundations and corporations, as well as the Area Agency on Aging and individual donors. Your contribution in any amount would be most welcome. You may send your tax-deductible contribution to the Elderly Law Project office located at:

ELP

The Elderly Law Project

Free legal assistance for older adults with the greatest economic and social need.

A special project of Neighborhood Legal Services Association

The Elderly Law Project is funded in part through a subcontract with the Allegheny County Department of Aging.

What is NLSA?

Neighborhood Legal Services Association (NLSA) is a private, non-profit corporation founded in 1966 to serve Allegheny, Beaver, Butler and Lawrence County residents who need legal help but cannot afford a lawyer. NLSA's staff of 65 attorneys, paralegals and support personnel are experienced in the law, especially law that affects low-income and elderly people. Similar NLSA programs operate throughout the United States, as well as in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Am I Eligible for Free ELP Services?

NLSA instituted the Elderly Law Project (ELP) in 1976 to serve poor and vulnerable older adults. If you are age sixty (60) or over, live in Allegheny County and are experiencing great economic and social need, you may be eligible for free legal assistance through this special program. ELP determines eligibility on a case by case basis during the first appointment. While eligible adults do not pay a fee to ELP, you may be required to pay court costs in some types of cases.

What Types of Cases Does ELP Handle?

The Elderly Law Project handles cases involving civil law only.

These include:

Housing and Landlord/Tenant Disputes

ELP represents tenants in evictions, housing code violations and other problems with landlords.

Public Benefits Crises

ELP represents clients threatened with terminations, reductions and denials of TANF, general assistance, food stamps, Medicaid, SSI and other public benefits.

Family Law Matters

ELP represents victims of physical abuse from spouses or other household members in actions brought under the Protection from Abuse Act. ELP represents residents in contention with utility companies over bills and shutoffs.

Unemployment Compensation Issues

ELP represents people seeking unemployment compensation benefits and those whose benefits have been terminated.

Sheriff Sales

ELP assists people whose assets are subject to sheriff sales by helping them to claim exemptions, to negotiate with creditors and, if necessary, to file bankruptcy to stop the sale.

Mortgage Foreclosure and Tax Sales

ELP represents and counsels property owners who face the loss of their homes through foreclosure or tax sales.

Guardianship Alternatives

ELP assists older adults seeking alternatives to guardianship, such as a designated representative payee, durable, springing and health care powers of attorney, and living wills.

Lawsuit Defense

Resources permitting, ELP may represent individuals who are defendants in civil lawsuits.

What Types of Cases Does ELP Exclude?

ELP does not handle criminal cases or fee-producing cases such as medical malpractice, accident, disability and workers' compensation. Low-income people involved in criminal matters may obtain legal representation through the Public Defender's Office. For fee-producing cases you may consult members of the private bar.
